The Company has adopted a code of conduct to promote good and fair practices by setting minimum standards in dealing with the clients and increasing transparency so that the clients have a better understanding of the services provided. Methodology of extending microfinance loans to Joint Liability Groups

The methodology of loan delivery is initiated by an orientation meeting organized in the villages where women are briefed on the loan disbursements and procedures. Women are then asked to form into groups of five members of their choice and 7 to 10 such groups form a Center/ JLG. The Company does not influence the selection of group members, the decision regarding the income generation activity and the loan amount they intend to take. After formation of the Group, the concerned Field Credit Assistant collects the ID proof and address proof for processing of client details to the Credit Bureau enquiry. After getting the Credit Bureau results, training is conducted for 5 to 7 days on procedures, methodology, calculation of interest rates and business development skills. The purpose of this training is to assist the members in identifying an income generation activity. Once the initial group training is complete and enrolled into a group through a Group Recognition test conducted by the authorized field officer, the groups meet weekly in their villages at a place and time convenient to them. The members undertake the responsibility of approving, disbursing and repaying the loans. A staggered disbursement ratio is maintained in order to build up discipline and promote proper loan utilisation. The field staff of the Company (Field Credit Assistant - Loan Officer) facilitates the loan utilisation, repayments and credit discipline of the groups. At the field level, the Branch manager, Area manager and Divisional manager make surprise visits to the centers/villages and verify the operations with the clients. The clients have access to these higher level staff to highlight and discuss their issues/grievances, if any. The senior staff at field level has been empowered to take certain actions/decisions to address the needs/issues of the clients immediately.
